

Residential Design Brief

Prepared for Synapse BuildOS · 12 September 2026

The site

We have bought a plot at Thoraipakkam, Chennai, and want to start drawings before the monsoon. The plot measures 40 x 60 ft and the approach road runs along the short side — it is an east facing site, which my wife's family were pleased about. The land is flat and the neighbouring plots on both sides are already built up to two floors. We are roughly 6 km inland, so nothing coastal applies.

The house

We are a family of five: the two of us, our two children, and my mother, who is 74 and cannot manage stairs any more. So her bedroom and a bathroom must be on the ground floor. Beyond that we would like 4 bedrooms in total and 3 bathrooms, over two floors.

A separate pooja room is not negotiable — my mother uses it every morning. We would also like a small study since both of us work from home two days a week, a utility area behind the kitchen for the washing machine, and covered car parking for one car with room to wheel two scooters in beside it. A balcony off the upstairs landing would be a bonus rather than a requirement.

Budget

Our ceiling is Rs. 72 lakhs including finishes but excluding furniture, which we will buy over time. We would rather cut back on the size than on the quality of the flooring — my brother's house has vitrified tiles that have not aged well, and we would like something better in the living and dining areas at least.

Summary of requirements

Item	Requirement
Location	Thoraipakkam, Chennai (inland)
Plot	40 x 60 ft, east facing
Floors	2 (G+1)
Bedrooms	4, one of them on the ground floor
Bathrooms	3
Also required	Pooja room, study, utility, car parking
Budget	Rs. 72 lakhs, excluding furniture
Occupants	Family of 5, including one elderly resident

Please come back with a first layout and a cost against it before we meet on the 26th. If the budget will not stretch to all of the above, tell us what to drop rather than quietly shrinking the rooms.
